

Privacy Policy

Privacy Statement Summary:

All information entered by User is kept internally by ASCI and not disclosed to any other third party outside the company. ASCI does not make its User or mailing lists available to anyone. ASCI does use "cookies" to capture information at our site and to allow the convenience of quick access to our support area. Information entered by a User is retained by ASCI to the extent that it is required for a sales transaction. Credit card and other confidential information is requested through a secure internet transaction and all confidential information necessary to be kept as a result of a purchase is maintained on an internal machine not accessible to the web site. Users may request, either via this web site, in writing, e-mail or by telephone, to be removed from any ASCI mailing list. Users who evaluate software may receive several e-mailings during the evaluation period. This e-mail is meant to ensure that the evaluation is progressing or to uncover and ultimately help a User who is experience problems. Users who select "NO" to the question of subscribing to an e-mail list will still receive these evaluation e-mailings. However, once the evaluation period has expired, the User's e-mail address is not kept or retained on any special e-mail lists.

We value your privacy as we value ours.

To find out more about our privacy practices, see select the "Privacy Statement of Details" below.

Privacy Statement Details:

Collection of Personal Information

ASCI collects, exports, and uses personal information to better serve you and personalize your experience and interaction with ASCI. Such collection is done with appropriate notice and consent, along with required filings with data protection authorities, where required.

ASCI may collect personal information from you to complete various transactions, such as:

- Product or Service Orders, Activations, and Registrations
- Profile Creation and User Verification
- Information Requests

- Marketing or Support Subscriptions
- Contest Entries or Survey Participation

Use of Personal Information

We will only use your Personal Information in the way we specified when it was collected. Some of the ways we may use Personal Information include to deliver a Solution that you have requested, support our Solutions, personalize websites and newsletters to your preferences, administer and process your certification exams, or communicate for marketing purposes. You can edit your preferences at any time.

Email Opt-Out

Users may request, either via this web site, in writing, e-mail or by telephone, to be removed from any ASCI mailing list. Users who evaluate software will receive e-mails during the evaluation period. This e-mail is meant to ensure that the evaluation is progressing or to uncover and ultimately help a User who is experiencing problems. Users who select "NO" to the question of subscribing to an e-mail list will still receive these evaluation e-mailings. Customers will also continue to receive product updates and information, regardless of opting out of emails, so that they can make informed decisions as to the use of our products and services.

Retention and Sharing of Personal Information

All information entered by a User is kept internally by ASCI and not disclosed to any other third party. ASCI does not make any mailing lists available to outside sources. Information entered by a User is retained by ASCI to the extent that it is required for a sales transaction. Credit card and other confidential information is requested through as a secure internet transaction and all confidential information necessary to be kept as a result of a purchase is maintained on an internal machine not accessible to the web site.

Online Advertising

ASCI uses "Pay Per Click" advertising and other internet based strategies to make our products and/or services visible to Users so that they visit our website.

What are cookies?

A cookie is a small text file that a website saves on your computer or mobile device when you visit the site. It enables the website to remember your actions and preferences (such as login, language, font size and other display preferences) over a period of time, so you don't have to keep re-entering them whenever you come back to the site or browse from one page to another.

Cookies and Other Web Technologies

Vendors such as Google, Bing, Yahoo and others use “cookies” to collect information on visitors using their services. ASCI wants to assure you that any information that is gathered and made available by the vendors shall remain anonymous and it cannot be used to identify you.

How do we use cookies?

A number of our pages use cookies to remember:

- if you have already replied to a survey pop-up that asks you if the content was helpful or not (so you won't be asked again)
- if you have agreed (or not) to our use of cookies on this site

Also, some videos embedded in our pages use a cookie to anonymously gather statistics on how you got there and what videos you visited.

Enabling these cookies is not strictly necessary for the website to work but it will provide you with a better browsing experience. You can delete or block these cookies, but if you do that some features of this site may not work as intended.

The cookie-related information is not used to identify you personally and the pattern data is fully under our control. These cookies are not used for any purpose other than those described here.

How to control cookies

You can control and/or delete cookies as you wish – for details, see aboutcookies.org. You can delete all cookies that are already on your computer and you can set most browsers to prevent them from being placed. If you do this, however, you may have to manually adjust some preferences every time you visit a site and some services and functionalities may not work.

Links to Unaffiliated Third Party Websites

We may provide links to other third-party websites and services which are outside our control and not covered by this Privacy Statement. We encourage you to review the privacy statements posted on those websites (and all websites) you visit. ASCI is not responsible for the privacy practices or the content of those other Web sites.

Changes to this ASCI Privacy Policy Statement

We may update this Privacy Statement at any time, so please review it frequently. If we change our Privacy Statement, we will post the revised version here. If we make significant changes to our Privacy Statement, we may also notify you by other means prior to the changes taking effect, such as sending an email or posting a notice on our website.
